

WILSON OPENS APPEAL FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE

PRESIDENT IS GREETED WITH EN- THUSIASM IN NEW YORK

Executive Warns that Plans for the Re-Adjustment of the Army Must Be Formulated and Carried Out Without Delay---Sounds Keynote of Addresses He Will Deliver During the Next Ten Days.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—President Wilson tonight opened his personal appeal to the country for national defense. He gave warning that plans for the readjustment of the army must be formulated and carried out without delay and solemnly declared he could not predict that the outlook for the United States would be as bright tomorrow as today. Speaking at banquets of the railway business association and the motion picture board of trade, he sounded the keynote of addresses that he will deliver during the next ten days in the middle west.

President in Fighting Mood.
Mr. Wilson was in a fighting mood throughout his address. In a speech delivered early in the day he declared he always accepted an invitation to fight. Tonight, he told the railway men, he was an advocate of peace and had struggled to keep the United States at peace, but he considered the liberty and honor of the nation even more important than peace.

"We to any man who plays marplot or who seeks to make party politics or personal ambition take precedence over candor, honor and unselfish, unpartisan service," said the president in speaking of his defense plan before the railroad men. He declared that the country expects action; this is a year of accounting, and the accounting must be definite on the part of the parties and on the part of every individual who wishes to enjoy the public confidence.

Is Greeted With Enthusiasm.
The president at both banquets and all during his stay in New York was greeted with enthusiasm. On his ride between the hotels, where the banquets were held tonight, he was escorted by a band and the Ninth Command of Coast Artillery of the New York National Guard.

Thousands of persons packed the streets and cheered him as he went by. During his speech before nearly 1,500 business men at the railway banquet, where he cast aside almost entirely the text of the address that he had previously prepared for delivery there, he was frequently interrupted by applause.

The president admitted that in a message to the last congress he had said the need for preparedness was not pressing. He declared that he had learned in the meantime. He cited his recent support of a tariff commission as another instance of a change on his part, but declared that previously there was no need for such a commission. The business men enthusiastically cheered him.

Mr. Wilson spoke of men of high character who were clouding the preparedness issue. He declared they were provincial and that the United States could no longer cut itself off from the rest of the world.

Discusses Mexican Policy.
The president vigorously discussed his Mexican policy. He asserted that to invade Mexico would mean the losing of confidence or the rest of the western hemisphere. He cited the freeing of Cuba as an instance of good done by the United States.

"If we are drawn into the maelstrom, which now rages in Europe," the president declared, "we shall not be permitted to do the high things we would prefer."

The president defended his army program drawn up by Secretary Garrison and said that he did not care about the details of any plan as long as 500,000 trained men were provided as reserves under the federal government. He advocated strengthening the national guard, but said the constitution itself would put the guard under the state. He added that the United States will not turn in the direction of militarism.

Outlines Why U. S. Should Prepare.
Outlining why the United States should prepare, Mr. Wilson said we must prepare our rights as a nation and the rights of our citizens in America and outside of it as the consensus of civilized peoples have defined them; must insure the embarrassed realization of our political declaration within our own borders and must protect the peace and political autonomy of the Americas.

He added that a national defense means the protection of the country from invasion and also the prevention of bank assault upon the things which we believe to underlie our life.

Industrial preparedness with the military training of students in the industrial schools was proposed by the president. He left navy plans for later addresses.

Business men who formerly relied on protective measures in their dealings with foreign powers were criticised by Mr. Wilson. He said American business men should be able to hold their own against the world.

Speaks to Motion Picture Board.
After he had finished his address before the Railway Business Association the president made a brief speech at the annual dinner of the Motion Picture Board of Trade, where he said in part:

"I found out what was going on in Mexico in a very singular way—by hearing a sufficiently large number of liars talk about it."

"It is very tedious to hear men lie, particularly when you know they are lying."

"I got to know that story so by heart that the last time a deputation visited me about Mexico I thought I would save time and I told them exactly what they were going to say to me and they went away very much confused; they wondered how I had heard it, because they knew it was so."

"And yet underneath this are great pulses which throb in great bodies of men and drive the great powers of state. And I wonder how men try to deceive a great nation."

"The test way to silence any friend of yours whom you know to be a fool is to induce him to hire a hall. Nothing kills pretense like exposure, nothing will bear the test of expression for a shorter length of time than pretense. I should think that in a year like the year 1916 when there is to be a common reckoning for everybody, men would hurry up and begin to tell the truth. They are not hurrying about it, they are taking their time, but the American people are going to insist upon it before this year is over—that everybody comes up and is counted on the great questions of the day. They are not going to take excuses, they are not going to take pretenses; they are going to insist upon the goods delivered on the spot."

"Some of my opinions about some men are extremely picturesque and if you could only take a motion picture of them you would think it was Vesuvius in eruption, and yet all these volcanic forces all these things that are going on inside of me have to be concealed under a most grave and reverent exterior, where as there is a lot going on inside me that would be entertaining to any audience anywhere."

"We all in our hearts agree upon the fundamental principles of our lives, of our life as a nation, now we ought to tax ourselves with the duty of seeing that those principles are realized in action and no fooling about it. If we could only agree that in all matters of public concern we would adjourn our private interests, look each other frankly in the face and say, 'we are all ready at what ever sacrifice of our own interests to go in common to do what the common weal demands.' What an irresistible force America would be."

Questions Demands Clarification.
In his address at the Railway Association banquet, President Wilson said in part:

"It is a great pleasure to come and be greeted in such generous fashion by men so thoughtful as yourselves, and so deeply engaged in some of the most important undertakings of the nation; and I consider it a privilege to be permitted to lay before you some of the things to which we ought to give our most careful and deliberate consideration. The question, it seems to me, which most demands clarification just now is the question of preparation for national defense."

"I say that it stands in need of clarification because, singularly enough it has been deeply clouded by passion and prejudice. It is very singular that a question, the elements of which are so simple and so obvious, should have been so clouded by the discussion of men of high motive, men of purpose and yet apparently incapable of divesting themselves of that sort of provincialism which consists in thinking the contents of their own minds to be the contents of the mind of the world."

"For gentlemen, while America is a great nation, while America contains all the elements of fine force and accomplishment, America does not, constitute the major part of the world."

"It would be a hopeless piece of provincialism to suppose that, because we think differently from the

FOUR YOUTHS ROB JAKE STAHL'S BANK

SECURE $15,000 AND ESCAPE IN AN AUTOMOBILE

Accomplice Sits Outside in Machine
Calmly Smoking a Cigarette—
Robbery Takes Just Three Minutes—Many Persons Pass Building While Robbery Is in Progress.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—With precision almost mechanical in their movements four young men entered the Washington Park National bank at East Sixty-third street and Evans avenue at the opening of business today, terrified more than a score of bank officers and depositors, robbed the tellers' cage of $15,000 and escaped in an automobile with a waiting confederate. While messengers for help were swiftly flying around the city a policeman twenty blocks away saw an automobile stop at the entrance to Washington park. One man left the machine and another examined the engine and then cranked the car and drove off.

When the description of the robbers' car reached the policeman he said: "That must have been the car I saw."

At the bank when the robbers entered were a number of depositors, among them Municipal Judge Fry. At his desk sat J. Garland Stahl, former baseball player and manager of the Boston Americans and now vice president of the robbed institution. Both the judge and the former ball player quickly obeyed the command "hands up" and made no move to interfere while one of the robbers entered the teller's cage and transferred package after package of bills to his pockets.

Each of the four who entered the bank was masked and armed with two revolvers. Outside in the small automobile in which they escaped, the fifth member of the band sat calmly smoking a cigarette and waiting for his companions.

One man who evinced some curiosity concerning the identity of the automobile which bore a "license applied for" tag was gruffly warned away from the car just as the four emerged from the bank.

Police Lieutenant John Hogan of the Cottage Grove Avenue station caught sight of the fleeing automobile after the alarm was given. He pursued it in his own car. As he was approaching the quarry an automobile truck collided with his machine, wrecking it and injuring Hogan. The Washington Park National bank is in one of the busiest sections of the city outside of the downtown district and many persons passed the building while the robbery was in progress.

Officials said that the work of the robbers showed an accurate knowledge of the bank. The robbery took just three minutes. None of the alarm devices installed in the bank was touched. Bank officials said that ample insurance against robbery was carried.

THIRD NATIONAL FOREIGN TRADE CONVENTION MEETS IN NEW ORLEANS

Discuss Proposed Measures to Help American Commerce Meet Competition in World's Markets After the War.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 27.—The tariff as related to foreign trade and proposed measures to help American commerce meet competition in the world's markets after the European war were discussed today at the third national foreign trade convention. Three general sessions and two group meetings were attended by more than 500 delegates.

Much attention was paid to the tariff system and many speakers expressed views advanced by Harry C. Emery, former chairman of the federal tariff board, who opposed "anti-dumping" legislation and advocated enactment of a "bargaining tariff" to be devised by a federal commission.

The opening session was devoted to addresses by Alvin J. Johnson, elected president of the convention, who advocated co-operation in overseas commerce through adoption of a national foreign trade policy and by James A. Farrell and others on investment of American capital abroad.

ANTI-SUFFRAGISTS FAVOR MEASURES FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—A resolution favoring measures for national defense, adopted by the directors of the National association opposed to Woman Suffrage at a meeting here today, appealed "to the mothers of the country to teach their children reverence for authority, obedience to the law and willingness to sacrifice selfish interests for the country good."

Women everywhere, "in times of peace, as well as of national disaster," the resolution declared, "should strive to further the cause of preparedness by the study of the source and conservation of the food supply by thrift and economy."

ORDERS POSTERS TAKEN DOWN

San Francisco, Jan. 27.—At the order of the federal authorities, a theatre here had taken down today posters on which were illustrated copies of Canadian recruiting bills.

The management was notified that the display of recruiting literature issued by a belligerent nation was a violation of American neutrality.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 27.—State Auditor Brady today issued a call to state banks for a statement of their condition at commencement of business January 25th.

TAYLORVILLE, Ill., Jan. 27.—To assist in stamping out the prevailing foot and mouth disease the Christian County Livestock Protective association was organized here today with a membership of about 1,000 farmers. Pete Hauer of Taylorville was elected president and W. J. McCluskey of Owaneco, secretary-treasurer.

JOLIET, Ill., Jan. 27.—Mayor William C. Barber today ruled that no intoxicating drinks could be served in Joliet cafes. The new rule supplements an order issued Monday barring women from saloons and cafes attached to saloons. In the latest order hotels are forbidden to serve drinks to guests in their rooms.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—A claim for $10,000 for each of the American ships killed by Mexican bandits at Santa Ysabel was received today by the state department. The department will press the Carranza government for payment.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 27.—Mrs. Jennie O. Thornburg, who last night shot and killed Mrs. Margaret McWilliams, a neighbor, as the latter was forcing an entrance to the Thornburg home, was exonerated by the police today and released.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Eugene Van Schaick, a prominent New York lawyer and director in a number of insurance and industrial concerns, committed suicide in his office today by shooting himself thru the head.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 27.—Five hundred families at and near Watson, Ark., have been driven from their homes by floods, according to a message received by Governor Geo. W. Hays this morning.

DECATUR, Ill., Jan. 27.—William Howe of Danville, was today declared distracted and feeble-minded by a jury in the Macon county court.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—Eight hundred and forty persons were saved from loan sharks during the last year by the First State Industrial Wage Loan Society, according to the annual report of the president, made public today. The total number of loans was 2,348. The society's net profit was $3,042.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Two Illinois men, Benjamin J. Rosenthal of Chicago, and Charles Hasler of Olney, have been appointed members of the Federal Assay Commission by President Wilson, it was announced today.

ROME, Jan. 27, via London.—It is reported in Vatican circles that the condition of Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, who has been ill for several days, is rapidly growing worse.

SEWARD, Alaska, Jan. 27.—Children are attending school barefooted in southern Alaska according to advices received today by mail.

It was said that no snow had fallen there and there had been no ice up to the middle of January. Northern Alaska, however, is in the grip of a severe blizzard.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—Irving and Herbert Uptide, indicted for conspiracy to kill their father, Furman D. Uptide, and their mother and sister, will go west to work on a ranch or a farm, the father said today. The Uptide brothers have been released on $30,000 bonds. When the courts send for them, Mr. Uptide said, they will come back.

ILLINOIS CLEANERS AND DYERS OPEN MEETING IN SPRINGFIELD

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 27.—The shortage in dyestuffs, resultant from the European war, will be one of the chief subjects for discussion at the annual meeting of the Illinois State Cleaners and Dyers association, which convened here today.

It is planned to appoint a committee to investigate South American sources of dye materials as a substitute for European markets. The convention also will discuss the increased price of gasoline.

At the annual banquet tomorrow night State Fire Marshal Walter Bennett will speak on "Fire Hazards." The business sessions will close tomorrow afternoon when officers will be elected.

PLAN ORGANIZED FIGHT AGAINST ANY PREPAREDNESS MEASURE

Washington, Jan. 27.—Democratic representatives opposed to President Wilson's preparedness plan have taken definite steps, it became known tonight, to make an organized fight against any preparedness measure that may be introduced. Representative Bailey of Pennsylvania a leader in the movement said that more than a score of members already had enlisted in it and that frequent conferences were being held quietly to perfect methods of procedure. Mr. Bailey declined to give the names of any of those associated with him in the anti-preparedness campaign but said that a careful poll of doubtful members was being made and that Representative Dies of Texas had been suggested as active leader to conduct the fight on the floor of the house.

MRS. MOHR BREAKS DOWN ON STAND

Undergoes Severe Cross-Examination By Attorney General

ADmits SHE WAS FOOLED

Witness Denies She Lived With Doctor Year and a Half Before Their Marriage

WILL HOLD COURT SATURDAY

Providence, R. I., Jan. 27.—The first serious break in the marital relations of the late Dr. C. Franklin Mohr and his wife, Elizabeth F. Mohr, who is charged with having hired two negroes to kill him, occurred at the time she told her husband of her friendship for a man named Samuel A. McDougall, who is now a minister in Pictou, Nova Scotia. This statement was elicited from Mrs. Mohr during a severe cross examination this afternoon by Attorney General Rice.

Breaks Down Several Times.
Occasionally during the examination she seemed confused as to dates and facts given in her direct testimony and several times broke down and sobbed.

It was in 1912, she said, that she first told Dr. Mohr about McDougall. The doctor, she admitted, was incensed and went to Nova Scotia to try to have the minister unfrocked. The attorney general then reminded her that in her direct testimony she said that her husband had gone "to the provinces to see a friend."

"The doctor was under the influence of drugs," said Mrs. Mohr. At the time she met McDougall, Mrs. Mohr said, she was known as Elizabeth Blair. She denied that she told the doctor that she had left Providence to go to Boston because of notoriety caused by her friendship with McDougall.

It was at about the time she told the doctor about McDougall, the attorney general brought out, that Mrs. Mohr and her husband had a falling out, and that he began to correspond with Miss Emily Barker, who later became his secretary and who was seriously wounded at the time the doctor was shot down in their stalled automobile.

Admits That "She Was Fooled."
Mrs. Mohr admitted that "she was fooled" about her first marriage with the doctor in Brooklyn but that she relied on the word of the doctor and took no other precautions.

She denied that she had lived with the doctor a year and a half before their marriage.

"Where was it that you really went thru a ceremony?" Mr. Rice asked.

Mrs. Mohr sobbed so that it was some time before she could answer. She finally replied that she and the doctor were married at Lynn, Mass., on May 24, 1909. The doctor thought it would be best, she said, on account of the children.

The residence and occupation of both herself and the doctor, as given on the records in Lynn, were false, Mrs. Mohr admitted. The statements were given by Dr. Mohr, she said, and she was standing to one side part of the time.

DENOUNCE MUNITIONS SHIPMENTS TO EUROPEAN BELLIGERENTS

Outburst in Senate Reflects Revival of Sentiment Which May Force Vote on Embargo Resolutions.

Washington, Jan. 27.—An outburst of denunciation against shipment of war munitions to European belligerents stirred the senate today reflecting a revival of sentiment, which may force a vote upon embargo resolutions that have been pending in committee for several months. A dozen senators including Democrats as well as Republicans, assailed the munitions traffic, while those who have sided with the administration in its stand that an embargo would violate international law were for the most part silent.

A petition for an embargo bearing more than a million signatures precipitated the debate.

A test vote at one time seemed inevitable, but it was averted after much parliamentary maneuvering by reference to the petition to the foreign relations committee.

DISCONTINUE MONEY SHIPMENTS AT NIGHT.

Houston, Tex., Jan. 27.—Train robberies in Oklahoma have caused the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad to discontinue money shipments at night thru that state. It was said here today by J. E. Garvin, general freight agent. Other railroads also have discontinued carrying money on night trains in the southwest.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS ARE RETURNED UNHARMED

THREE LIEUTENANTS TO BE TRIED BY COURT MARTIAL

Officers Are Placed Under Arrest on Charge of Disobedience and Violation of International Law—
Mexican Sergeant Is Ordered Arrested.

Washington, Jan. 27.—There was no indication tonight that the United States government would consider any action necessary in the case of the two American soldiers captured yesterday by armed Mexicans near Brownsville, Texas, and returned to their commands today, other than to investigate the incident and probably court martial Lieutenants Peyton, Mort and Waldron—the officers who led the detachment of soldiers into Mexican territory to rescue their captured comrades.

Secretary Garrison said positive orders had been given every officer in the army not to cross the boundary under any provocation without specific instructions from Washington. Should the investigation ordered by Major General Funston prove that the officers violated this order, it was said, they undoubtedly would be court martialled and probably held responsible for the death of the four soldiers, members of the rescue party, who were drowned in the Rio Grande while returning from their expedition.

Orders Mexicans Officers Arrested.
Brownsville, Texas, Jan. 27.—Col. J. R. Quintanilla, commanding the Mexican garrison in Matamoros, has ordered the arrest of the sergeant of the Mexican detachment which took Privates W. C. Wheeler and Viggo Pederson of the United States army in charge yesterday after they had been decoyed, they assert, to the Mexican side of the Rio Grande. Colonel Quintanilla said the sergeant had disobeyed orders issued by Gen. Alfredo Ricaut, commanding the Mexican district between Matamoros and Nuevo Laredo, calculated to promote friendship between Americans and Mexicans. He said the fact that Wheeler and Pederson were on Mexican soil unarmed and even without their clothing made it plain they were innocent of causing any trouble. This sergeant, it is understood, denies the two Americans were decoyed to the Mexican side or that shots were fired at them.

Bodies Are Not Recovered.
None of the bodies of the four soldiers drowned in the attempted rescue of Wheeler and Pederson had been recovered late tonight.

Preparations were being made here tonight for the trial by court martial of three United States army lieutenants as the next step in the investigation of the incursion into Mexican territory yesterday by the three officers and fourteen privates, bent on rescuing two privates.

The officers, First Lieut. John E. Mort, commanding Battery D, Fourth field artillery, and Second Lieutenants Bernard R. Peyton and Albert W. Waldron, were placed under arrest today by military authorities on charges of disobedience of superior officers and violating international law. The two men they tried to rescue were returned to the United States today by Carranza officials.

REPORTS BRITISH FORCES AT ADEN IN DANGEROUS POSITION

BERLIN, Jan. 27.—via London.—According to the Kolische Volks Zeitung's Cairo correspondent, the situation of the British forces at Aden in December was reported to be dangerous. Aden was surrounded from the land side by numerous strong, well armed Arab tribes and a few Turkish regulars. The British garrison, consisting of 20,000 men was said to be defending itself stubbornly and only the few from the warships had saved them from capture.

Press Bureau Denies Report.
London, Jan. 27.—The official press bureau this evening gave out a statement denying that truth of the reports contained in the Volks Zeitung's despatch from Cairo concerning the situation at Aden.

STATE GERMANS LOSE HEAVILY

BULLETIN.
BERNE, Switzerland, Jan. 27.—via Paris, Jan. 28.—An angry crowd at Lausanne, in the Canton of Vaud, tore down a German flag which had been hoisted by the German consul in honor of Emperor William's birthday. The federal council of Switzerland held an extraordinary session at which it was decided to offer apology to Germany for the insult to the flag. Meetings of the state council of Vaud and of the Lausanne city council were held for a like purpose.

BULLETIN.
LONDON, Jan. 27.—General Townshend, commanding the British force invested at Kut-el-Amara in Mesopotamia has reported that the Turks have evacuated their trenches on the landside of the defenses at Kut and retired, generally speaking, to about a mile from the British entrenchments. It was officially announced here today. No change in the situation was reported by General Aylmer, commanding the British column, marching to the relief of the garrison at Kut.

The British labor congress while opposing by a large majority the provisions of the military service bill has defeated a proposal that the workingmen should agitate for its repeal.

Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade in the British cabinet, has informed parliament that in order to relieve the pressure on shipping and make room in vessels for additional imports of food stuffs, fuel, munitions and other essentials, restrictions against importation of certain goods will be put into effect by the government.

In an address read at the propagation of parliament until Feb. 15th, King George expressed in these words the determination of the entente allies to continue the war until victory is achieved:

"We shall not lay down our arms until we have vindicated the cause which carries with it the future of civilization."

Considerable fighting has been taking place along the entire French front. Berlin asserts that between 500 and 600 yards of French trenches were stormed by the Germans in the vicinity of Neuville and that French counter attacks were without results.

In this region the French assert, the Germans were driven from mine craters they had occupied and were repulsed in trying to recapture them while the British report the progressive occupation by their men of mine craters and German listening posts in Neuville region.

Paris announces also that German trenches in Belgium and to the north of the Aisne have been badly hammered by the French guns and that the Germans suffered in serious losses in the Argonne.

Bristol, Jan. 27.—The apparently contradictory votes at the labor conference today condemning conscription and declining to agitate for the repeal of the measure were brought about by the labor men's determination to display their unflinching opposition to militarism and their desire at the same time not to embarrass the government in the prosecution of the war. These views were given expression in the various speeches of the leaders, even those supporting the government's consulsion scheme, such as Arthur Henderson, president of the board of Education and others saying they were unalterably opposed to any permanent conscription system, but adding that the circumstances of present military expediency compelled them to the conclusion that some such temporary scheme was an absolute necessity.

London, Jan. 27.—The Royal assent and other formalities giving statutory force to the military service bill and the bill prolonging the life of parliament were concluded in the house of lords today and parliament was prorogued until Feb. 15th.

The changes which time brings are shown in the dispatch from Carthage, Mo., stating that the Anti-Horse Thief association there is now making a special effort to break up a gang of automobile thieves. The time may come when the A. H. T. A. will change the initials to A. A. T. A.

Ford Plant to Expand.

Henry Ford has not thus far been a conspicuous success as a world peace maker, but nobody can deny his leadership in the automobile industry. The announcement has just been made from Detroit that an addition to the Ford motor plant to cost anywhere from five to ten million dollars is to be begun right away. Mr. Ford intends to more than double the capacity of his plant. With the prices of higher grade cars on the toboggan, the fact that the Ford company did not announce any reduction for 1916 was something of a surprise. But the increased cost of materials which enter into the construction of automobiles gives evidence that Ford was right and the time had not come when he was forced to a lower level. That time may come, but judged by the history of his company, Ford is fully able to meet any contingency requiring proper judgment.

McCall is Suggested.

Samuel W. McCall, governor of Massachusetts, it is said was mentioned several times as a possibility when the national convention committee met in Chicago a day or two since. This means nothing more than to indicate that Mr. McCall possibly has more friends on the committee than some other candidates who were mentioned but once. Samuel W. Blythe, whose political writings appear in the Saturday Evening Post and have a breezy style known only to this writer, recently indulged in a spirit of phobias in which while summing up the presidential possibility situation, he inferred very strongly that the "old guard" in the Republican party will seek the nomination of Governor McCall, who came to his present situation thru a fusion of Bay State Republicans and Progressives. Mr. Blythe wound up his prognostications with this tribute to Mr. McCall, "And the convention might go much further and do worse." But

Rippling Rhymes By WALT MASON

A DIRGE

My friend is dead, while yet so young! Pneumonia in his starboard lung defied the learned physicians' skill, and laughed to scorn the healing pill. And all his days he was on guard, against disease; kept watch and ward, to see that no disgusting germ should thru his mouth or nostrils squirm. And when convinced that some disease was throwing microbes on the breeze, he breathed thru anti-septic gauze—took all the care that ever was. While others scratched for fame or wealth, he only thought about his health, and studied up the bughouse rules of all the foremost health-fad schools. He used a sanitary bed, and lived on milk and oatmeal bread, and walked nine miles, in rain or blast, each day before he broke his fast. His life has closed before its noon, and I, who care no pleasure for rules laid down by mortal man, but eat and drink what I can, am here to mourn my friend's decease, and wish his spirit joy and peace.

DATES IN ILLINOIS HISTORY.

Jan. 28, 1780—Thomas Jefferson governor of Virginia wrote to John Todd, lieutenant of the county of Illinois, that it had been decided to build a fort at the mouth of the Ohio river. The fort when built some months later was named Fort Jefferson.

Two things will to some extent block the course of Governor McCall—one of these, the feeling that he has been too closely associated with the so-called "old guard" of the party, and secondly, because he is an eastern man. The majority opinion seems to indicate that this is the year for a middle west nomination.

One Day's Rest Needed.

The request recently issued by David Lloyd George that the manufacture of munitions in England be confined to six days furnishes another of many laudable arguments in favor of one day's rest in seven. The order from the British leader has probably not been based upon any religious feeling whatever but rather upon the cold facts. The statistics in his hands have proven that the output of munitions where men worked seven days without rest was less than when they worked six days. His great purpose is to keep the total manufacture of munitions up to highest possible point and so he advises and commands "No Sunday work."

The time was when all the arguments advanced against Sunday work were based on religious scruples but that day is long since past and many employers who have no particular reverence for Sunday, insist upon their business being operated only six days because it's more profitable that way. Sunday preserved for rest, recreation and religious observance will ever be an aid to the growth of this country, and as this country keeps away from the so-called "continental Sunday" its development along right lines will be the more secure.

Justice and an Iron Hand.

"Justice without aggression" is the way President Wilson summed up his Mexican policy in addressing a company of New York ministers Thursday. It is a high sounding, lofty phrase, and worthy of the ideals which undoubtedly actuate President Wilson, but a policy affecting this great republic and a smaller neighboring republic cannot thus be clearly outlined. In fact the statement might be taken as further evidence that there is some justice in the frequent accusations made that the president is too much of a dreamer and that his fine scholastic mind does not entirely grasp important questions of state at their full meaning. The ideals that the president is following in his relations with Mexico can be approved only if they are achieved and justice must extend not only to Mexico but to the citizens of the United States.

The president in his Mexican policy does not seem to take into account the character of the people with whom he is dealing and attributes to them a development of character and purpose which has not yet been reached, and which will not be reached there until there have been many years of development. "Justice without aggression" sounds well, but it is something of a platitude when the real facts about conditions across the border are staring us in the face. The time for intervention may not be here and may not come, but conditions are fast justifying a revision of the president's phrase to "Justice and an iron hand."

Senator Burton's Alter the War View

Senator Burton of Ohio, one of the Republican presidential possibilities, in a St. Louis address the other day declared that American manufacturers must go after trade with greater aggressiveness than has marked their efforts in the past. The senator said that U. S. manufacturers and merchants had not shown near the progressiveness in securing business in South America that the opportunity has warranted. England, Germany and other foreign nations have shown their power and business acumen in getting after foreign business during the progress of other wars where normal conditions have been disturbed. He prophesied that after the present war that American merchants must wake up and far outstrip any of their previous records if they equal the activity which will be displayed by the European nations.

While the European governments are suffering immense losses, their merchants and manufacturers are so much better organized for foreign trade that in the light of history they are certain to become even more keen competitors of the United States for foreign business than has been true in the past. Senator Burton prophesies also that after the war there will be such industrial activity in Europe that an enormous demand for investment will be created and that interest rates here will become much higher as money is less available for the development of American enterprises and industries. The questions propounded by the senator from Ohio are only a few of many which have been brought forward in discussing "after the war, what?" Certain it is that in the flush of present prosperous business conditions resulting from the war it will not be wise for American businessmen to blind themselves to the future and to fancy they are secure in the 1916 situation and that present conditions are to continue indefinitely. Preparedness is needed in more ways than one.

The People and Preparedness.

A few months ago the word "efficiency" was being worked to death. Every paper and every magazine had something about "efficiency" of a personal or public kind and nearly every fault found was summarized into a lack of efficiency. The talk is not done, but "efficiency" is fast giving way to "preparedness" and every day it becomes more apparent that this question of military preparedness is going to be one of the great issues of the coming campaign. The party conventions will necessarily include something in their platforms on this question. The Wilson program of preparedness is not satisfactory to many Democrats and it is said that the president's present swing around the circle has been occasioned almost solely by his realization that something must be done to strengthen his position with the party. It seems that incited mainly thru Bryan influence, letters and telegrams have been pouring into Washington urging Democratic congressmen and senators against any great increase in the army and navy and our defenses.

Neither is the Republican party a unit on this question, and while Congressman Mann in his preparedness program outlined a day or two ago, undoubtedly represented a majority of the Republicans in congress, there are other members of the party who are earnestly opposed to any program looking toward large expenditures along this line. There are a great many of the rank and file of both the Republican and Democratic parties whose minds are not fully made up as to just what they think the present conditions warrant or just what is advisable for the government from a safety standpoint. As the debate continues in congress and as more is written and said, the public will form opinions along more definite lines.

The question is, broadly speaking, one of patriotism rather than one of party or politics. And the settlement in congress will be by a non-partisan vote unless some changes in opinion are recorded. In many citizens there is an instinctive objection to a preparedness program because of a realization that to pay for increased defenses means an increase in taxation, which will not be for one year but will extend thru many. Another reason for opposition is a lack of knowledge as to the real condition of our army and navy and defenses by comparison with other nations. There are besides many citizens of this country—citizens by adoption, who came here to escape the military system of Europe, and who are unreservedly opposed to any program which they feel will lead to a military condition like that which they left in the fatherland.

All that is necessary for the successful carrying out of an adequate defense program is an appeal to the patriotism of the country. The people will favor a program not too radical, which will give them the security of an adequate defense if trouble with world powers should come. A great standing army is not necessary, but a vast force of men could readily be trained for service in a way which would not be a burden on the state or upon individuals. Such training could be so planned that it would be of physical benefit to the young or middle aged men taking part, and a great force which might be termed organized and still unorganized, would be available and serve as a source of protection greater than mere armament could afford. Such a reserve force of men need not be equipped with arms now but with such a force available and with the government supplied with munitions, only a few weeks or at the most a few months, would be necessary to put a great army into action.

At this time the program with most appeal includes naval increase, a lesser increase in the standing army, a betterment of coast defenses and a reserve army of civilians not organized along strictly military lines but composed of men who will make themselves available for service thru appeal to their patriotic motives.

MORTUARY

Kershaw.

As already stated in the Journal, at 4:30 Thursday morning Mrs. R. C. Kershaw breathed her last quietly and peacefully at the home of her brother, B. F. Ragsdale, 343 East Morgan street. For some years she had lived in the family residence, 327 Lorton street, till nine weeks ago when she suffered a slight stroke of paralysis when she was removed to Our Savior's hospital. While she was there it was deemed best to operate on her for strangulated hernia about six weeks ago, but she failed to rally to any great extent. Three weeks ago she was taken to the home of her brother as stated, but recovery was not to be secured so all that medical skill and devoted attention could accomplish was done for her, but to no avail, and she passed away as stated. Cerebral hemorrhage was the immediate cause of her death.

Mrs. Kershaw was born in Springfield, Ill., Feb. 18th, 1843, and was the daughter of Daniel and Eliza Beall Ragsdale who gave their little one the name of Mary Dorcas. Her father was a native of Kentucky and her mother of Maryland and were respectable, upright people. Mrs. Kershaw used to say she well remembered riding on one of the early excursions on the Wabash between Jacksonville and Springfield. The family have been residents of this city for 55 years and naturally look on Jacksonville as their home. Mrs. Kershaw was one of ten children but all are gone except her brother, B. F. Ragsdale.

April 20th, 1879 she was married to Robert Kershaw, the ceremony taking place at the home of R. C. Metcalf on East North street. The little homestead on Lorton street was at once occupied by the young people and both remained there till the death of Mr. Kershaw, Jan. 4th, 1910, and even then the widow remained there claiming it as home till the end came to her.

She was a devoted member of the Methodist church and united first with the East Charge body when quite young and remained a faithful

Black.

Mrs. John Black passed away at her home in Divernon last Sunday and was buried Tuesday. Her maiden name was Louvina West and she was born in Kentucky, Feb. 3, 1831 and came with her parents to Missouri in 1838. In 1868 she was married to John Black in Independence, Mo., and came to Illinois in 1869 and settled in Jacksonville. They resided here until 1888 when they moved to Divernon and later to Christian county in 1906. She is survived by her husband and five children. Mrs. Black was united with the Shiloh church of this county in early life and had lived a consistent christian career. She was well known by the older members of the Shiloh neighborhood.

DESCRIBES POSITION OF UNITED STATES IN A WAR-TORN WORLD

Major General Wood likens America to a "Ship at Sea With Typhoon Signals Coming From Many Directions."

Washington, Jan. 27.—The position of the United States in a war-torn world was described today by Major General Leonard Wood as like that of "a ship at sea with typhoon signals coming from many directions."

"We are living in an era of war," he said, "and gradually are accumulating most of the troubles of the world."

General Wood, who appeared at the committee's hearings of the army increase bills, repeated in the main the testimony he previously had given before the senate military committee. He said it would take an army of a million and a half to hold a line from Boston south.

Should conditions at the close of the war in Europe invite attack, he declared, the more powerful of the belligerents could land 500,000 men on American soil in less than 30 days.

A regular army of 220,000 fully trained and always under arms, with at least 2,000,000 reserves behind them should be provided, he urged, to meet this situation. The United States navy, he classed as fourth in fighting efficiency, and declared it could not maintain control of the sea or defend the coast.

While General Wood and Colonel Edwin F. Glenn, chief of staff of the department of the east were testifying before the house and senate military committees respectively, Rear-Admiral R. S. Griffin, chief engineer of the navy, told the house naval committee, considering navy increases, of the mechanical ills to which submarines are subjected.

Admiral Griffin said he believes no foreign power was outstripping the United States in naval design and that type for type American craft was as efficient as any afloat. To show the condition of American submarines, he read a report stating that they had done several hundred miles submerged cruising last year. Their engines were available for duty approximately 300 days a year, he added.

ANNOUNCE AGREEMENTS.
New York, Jan. 27.—Attorneys for the White Star line announced tonight that agreements had been reached with more than 200 claimants whereby about $500,000 will be paid in claims arising out of the Titanic disaster.

MINERS GIVE WHITE AND HAYES SWEEPING VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 27.—After a bitter attack by E. L. Doyle, secretary of the Colorado miners, in which he assailed the management of the strike in that state, the United Mine Workers of America in convention gave a sweeping vote of confidence to John P. White, president and Frank J. Hayes, vice-president today when it approved by a large majority all that the international officers had done to win that labor struggle.

For more than two hours Doyle with a mass of letters, documents and photographs, attacked some of the things done by the leaders in conducting the strike. After the convention had approved the acts of the international officers a motion to expunge from the record all the remarks of Doyle was carried by an overwhelming vote.

GRANTS POWER TO SUBPOENA WITNESSES.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Power to subpoena witnesses in the hearing of Representative Buchanan's impeachment charges against United States District attorney Marshall of New York was given by the house today to the judiciary committee. The committee asked the right to subpoena that Mr. Buchanan, who contended he was unable to meet the expense of bringing witnesses to Washington might have fullest opportunity to prove his charges.

ARGUMENTS ARE CONCLUDED.

Council Bluffs, Iowa, Jan. 27.—Arguments were concluded today in the Abeles suit against the State Railway Commission of Iowa to prevent the enforcement of an order compelling the Atlantic Southern to resume train service. Judge Wade announced that he would reserve decision until the resources of the state court were exhausted in a parallel case which is being tried in Polk county (Des Moines).

GEORGIA OLD TIMERS FIDDLE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP.

Atlanta, Jan. 27.—Fiddles of all makes and sizes, emitting every kind of noise from a wheeze to a sonata began a four-day grind at the auditorium today. The Old Time Fiddlers of Georgia are in session, and the annual championship is to be awarded. From every county has come at least one of the old timers, and there is keen competition, so keen, in fact, that the judges expect to have a hard time of it before Saturday night.

rest of the world, we are at liberty to assume that the rest of the world will permit us to enjoy that thought without disturbance. It is a surprising circumstance also that men should allow partisan feeling or personal ambition to creep into the discussion of this fundamental thing. How can Americans differ about the safety of America?

"And I, for my part, am ambitious that America should do a greater and more difficult thing than the great nations on the other side of the water have done. In all the belligerent countries, men without distinction of party have drawn together to accomplish a successful prosecution of the war. It is not a more difficult and a more desirable thing that all Americans should put partisan passion aside and draw together for the successful prosecution of peace? I covet that distinction for America, and I believe that America is going to enjoy that distinction.

Pays Tribute to Mann.

"Only the other day, the leader of the Republican minority in the house of representatives delivered a speech that showed that he was ready and I take it for granted that the men behind him were ready to forget party lines in order that all men may act with a common mind and impulse for the service of the country. And I want, upon this first public occasion, to pay my tribute of respect and obligation to him."

"I find it hard, indeed, to approach this subject without deep emotion, gentlemen, because, when we speak of America and the things that are to be conserved in her, does it not call a wonderful picture into your mind? America is still young, she is not even in the heyday of her development and power.

"Think of the service which those forces can and must render to the rest of the world.

"America has been reluctant to match her wit with the rest of the world. We have professed to stand behind protecting devices and now we are thrust out to do, on a scale never dreamed of in recent generations in America, the business of the world.

"We can no longer be a provincial nation.

"Let no man to say, if he would speak the truth, that the question of perfection of national defense is a question of war or peace.

"If there is the more passion deep seated in the hearts of our countrymen than another, it is the passion for peace. Partly because, in the plenitude of its power, in the restricted area of its opportunities, it has found nothing to covet in the possessions and power of other nations.

No Spirit of Aggrandizement.

"There is no spirit of aggrandizement in America. I have sought to maintain peace against very great, and sometimes, very unfair odds and I am ready at any time to use every power that is in me to prevent such a catastrophe as war coming upon this country.

"Gentlemen, there is something that the American people love better than they love peace. They love the principles upon which their political life is founded. They are ready at any time for the vindication of their character and of their honor. They will at no time seek a contest but they will at no time cravenly avoid it. Because every nation is one thing that the country ought to fight for, and that every nation ought to fight for, it is the integrity of its own convictions. We will not surrender our conviction. I would rather surrender territory than surrender those ideals which are the staff of life for the soul itself.

"America has more than once given evidence of the generosity and disinterestedness of its love of liberty. It has been willing to fight for the liberty of others as well as for its own liberty. The world sneered when we set out for the liberation of Cuba, but the world does not sneer any longer. The world knows now what was then loath to believe that a nation can sacrifice its own interests and its own blood for the sake of the liberty and happiness of another people.

Have Undertaken Obligations.

"And, whether by one process or another, we have made ourselves in some sort the champions of free government and national sovereignty in both continents of this hemisphere, so that there are certain obligations that we have undertaken. The first and primary obligation is the maintenance of the integrity of our own sovereignty—which goes as a matter of course. There is also the maintenance of our liberty to develop our political institutions without hindrance and last of all there is the determination and the obligation to stand as the strong brother of all those in this hemisphere who will maintain the same principles and follow the same ideals of liberty.

"May I venture to insert here a parenthesis? Have any of you thought of this? We have been slow, very slow, indeed, to win the confidence of other states of the American hemisphere. If we should go into Mexico, do you know what would happen? All the sympathy of the rest of the America would look across the water, and not northward to the great republic which we profess to represent.

"And do you not see the consequences that would ensue in every international relationship? Have the gentlemen who have rushed down to Washington to insist that we should go into Mexico reflected upon the politics of the world? Nobody seriously supposes, gentlemen, that the United States needs to fear an invasion of its own territory. What America has to fear, if she has anything to fear, are indirect, roundabout, flank movements upon her flank position in the western hemisphere. Are we going to open those gates, or are we going to close them?

For they are the gates to arts of our American friends to the south of us and not the gates to the ports. Win their spirits and you have won the only sort of leadership and the only sort of safety that America covets. We must all of us think, from this time out in terms of the world and must learn what it is that America has set out to maintain as a standard bearer for all those who love liberty and justice and righteousness and political action.

"What I am trying to impress upon you now is that the circumstances of the world today are not what they were yesterday and that it is not certain what they will be tomorrow. I cannot tell you what the international relations of this country will be tomorrow and I use the word literally. And I would not dare keep silent and let the country suppose that tomorrow was certain to be as bright as today.

Will Never be the Aggressor.

"America will never be the aggressor; America will always seek to the last point at which her honor is involved to avoid the things which disturbed the peace of the world. But America does not control the circumstances of the world and we must be sure that we are faithful servants of those things which we love and are ready to defend them against every contingency that may affect or impair them.

"But as I was saying, a moment ago, we must seek the means which are consistent with the principles of our lives. It goes without saying, then, apparently it is necessary to say to some excited persons, that one thing this country never will endure is a system that can be called militarism. But militarism consists in this, gentlemen, it consists in preparing a great machine whose only use is for war and for giving it no use to which to apply itself. Men who are in charge of edged tools and hidden to prepare them for exact and scientific use, grow very impatient if they are not permitted to use them and I do not believe that the creation of such an instrument is an insurance of peace. I believe it involves the danger of all the temptations that skillful persons have to use the things that they know how to use.

"But we don't have to do that. America is always going to use her army in two ways. She is going to use it for the purpose of peace and she is going to use it as a nucleus for expansion into those things which she does believe in, namely the preparation of her citizens to take care of themselves.

Two Sides to Question.

"There are two sides to this question of preparation. There is not merely the military side, there is the industrial side. And the ideal which I have in mind is this, gentlemen; we ought to have in this country a great system of industrial and vocational education, under federal guidance and with federal aid, in which a very large percentage of the youth of this country will be given training in the skillful use of application of the principles of science in manœuvre and business. And it will be perfectly feasible and highly desirable to add to that, and combine with it, such a training in the mechanism, use and care of arms in the sanitation of the camp in the simpler forms of manœuvre and organization, as will make these same men industrially serviceable for national defense.

"The point about such a system will be that its emphasis will lie on the industrial and civil side of life and that, like all the rest of America the use of force will only be in the background, and as the last resort. So that men will think first of their families and their daily work, of their service in the economic fields of the country and only last of all their serviceability to the nation as soldiers and men at arms. That is the ideal of America.

"But gentlemen, you cannot create such a system overnight. You cannot create such a system rapidly. It has got to be built up; and I hope it will be built up by slow and effective stages. And there is something to be done in the meantime. We ought to see that a sufficient body of citizens is given the kind of training which will make them efficient for call into the field in case of necessity.

"It is discreditable to this country for this is a country full of intelligent men, that we should have exhibited to the world the example we have sometimes exhibited to it of stupidity and brutal waste of force. Think of asking men who can be easily drawn, to come into the field, crude, ignorant, inexperienced and merely furnish the stuff for campaign fever and the bullets of the enemy.

"The sanitary experience of our army in the Spanish War was merely an indictment of America's indifference to the manifest lessons of experience in the matter of ordinary preparation. We have got the men to waste but God forbid that we should waste them. Men who go as efficient instruments of national honor into the field afford a very handsome spectacle indeed, but men who go in, crude and ignorant boys, only indict those in authority for stupidity and neglect. And so it seems to me that it is our manifest duty to have a proper citizen reserve.

Not Forgetting National Guards.

"I am not forgetting our national guards.

"As governor of New Jersey, I was brought into association with and learned to admire the men, to respect the officers, and to believe in the national guard, and I believe that the great arm of our national defense should be built up and encouraged to the utmost. But you know that under the constitution of the United States it is under the direction of more than two score states. And I, for my part, am afraid, that some gentlemen differ with me and there is no way in which the force can be made a direct resource as a national reserve under national authority.

"What we need is a body of men trained in association with units of the army, a body of men organized under the immediate direction of the national authorities, a body of men subject to the immediate call to arms of the national authority and yet men not put into the ranks of the regular army; men left to their tasks of civil life, men supplied with equipment and training, but not drawn from the peaceful pursuits which have made America great and must keep her great.

"I am not a partisan of any one plan. I have had too much experience to think that it is right to say that the plan which I proposed is the only plan that will work because I have a shrewd suspicion that there may be other plans which will work. But what I am for and what every American ought to insist upon, is a body of at least a half million trained citizens who will serve under conditions of danger as an immediately available national reserve."

HOT AND COLD WAVES BOTH BREAK JANUARY RECORDS IN MANY PLACES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Temperature extremes never before equalled in the forty years' history in the weather bureau were recorded today by government forecasters. While the east and south were treated to summer skies the northwest felt one of the coldest, snaps of the winter. Tampa with a temperature of 80 was 134 degrees warmer than Havre, Montana, the coldest town in the country at 44 degrees below zero. The hot and cold waves both broke January records in many parts of the country. The cold wave, sweeping east will reach the Atlantic Coast about Saturday.

ACCEPT RATE INCREASES.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 27.—The freight rate increases recently authorized by the Missouri Public Service Commission were accepted by a majority of Missouri railroads and the passenger rate increases were accepted by the Washburn, Rock Island, Missouri, Kansas & Texas, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and the Chicago and Alton railroad, all under protest, however, at a conference of the legal, executive and traffic officers of the railroads here today.

AGRICULTURAL PAGEANT PLANNED FOR CENTENNIAL

Mrs. Weber Has Worked Out Details for Interesting Exhibit.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 26.—An agricultural pageant combining legend and romance with history and to be acted by children is being planned as part of the celebration of the Illinois Centennial in 1918. A general plan for such pageant has been worked out by Mrs. Jessie Palmer Weber, secretary of the Illinois State Historical society.

Discussing the pageant, Mrs. Weber said:

"It has occurred to me that it might be of great interest to work up in pageant form the legends relating to Indian corn and I believe some of these might be used as the opening scene or introduction to a pageant."

"I think the story of Kaskaskia would suit this purpose, especially in bringing out the French Commons in which each family was assigned its little portion of land for a garden, an orchard, and a limited grazing space. One might have the French settlers with their gardens and orchards and the ever present wheat as well, as the Frenchmen always used white bread and did not depend on ground corn as did the Virginians."

"Starting with legend of the Indian corn with the canoes, then the arrival of the French commandant, Boisbriant and the priests, the settlement at Kaskaskia, the division of the land into commons, the quaint dress of the French, perhaps the arrival of the soldiers at Fort Chartres and the first few French women might follow, and then a very pretty scene would be the harvesting of the wheat."

"The changes in the government could be shown, the arrival of the English, the coming of George Rogers Clark, followed by the Virginians or 'Long Knives.' Then an interesting thing would be the establish-

MOTHER! DON'T TAKE CHANCES IF CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Clean Little Liver and Bowels.

A laxative today save a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of 'California Syrup of Figs,' then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough 'inside cleansing' is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of 'California Syrup of Figs,' which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the 'California Fig Syrup Company.'—Adv.

W. R. TILTON IN SERVICE 35 YEARS

Railroad Engineer Since 1880 Obtains Great Relief Through Taniae.

WELL KNOWN ON RUN

W. R. Tilton, one of the most capable and trusted engineers of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, who resides at West Grand Place, Springfield, Illinois, and who is known to hundreds of people along his run, made a most remarkable statement in regard to Taniae, the new preparation that is now being sold in Jacksonville, and the benefits he had derived from the use of the 'Master Medicine.'

On meeting W. B. McPherson, who is distributor for Taniae in the state of Illinois, Mr. Tilton said:

"Is there any 'dope' in your medicine?"

"Not a drop," said Mr. McPherson.

"Why do you ask?"

"Well, to make a long story short," replied Mr. Tilton, "since I began taking Taniae I have slept better in the last ten days than I have for five years. I have been having considerable stomach trouble for some time. This has brought about a nervous condition that I have been unable to throw off. I could not sleep soundly at night and was forced to go on my trip at times feeling pretty well 'all in.'"

"I heard about Taniae and the relief it was giving so many people, so I thought I would get a bottle myself. I cannot tell you how much it has helped me. My old-time stomach trouble is gradually leaving me and I sleep like a log at night. Taniae is all right and I can heartily recommend it to anyone who is feeling the same way that I did."

When such men as Mr. Tilton, whom hundreds hold in the highest esteem for his worth as a man of unquestioned integrity and one who can be relied upon, praise Taniae, the new preparation that is being introduced in this city, it cannot be denied that the 'Master Medicine' is all that is claimed for it.

Taniae is now being sold in Jacksonville at the well known drug store of Coover & Shreve.—Adv.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE NEWS LETTER

The Illinois Equal Suffrage Association is theroly alive and very wide awake. New organizations are joining from time to time and each one is a most welcome addition. Any civic league in any village, city, town or county from any locality within the state may affiliate with the State Association and thus become identified with this great work.

In cities the ward is the unit. Any ward organization may become an affiliated society and by so doing aid the Association and will themselves undoubtedly be greatly benefited. Chicago has thirty-five wards, in each of which there is a league or ward organization. Each league has an efficient chairman and a good board. Very recently the Chairmen of all these ward organizations met with the State President, upon her invitation, at the State Headquarters, 604 Tower Bldg., Chicago. This being the Second Annual Conference of this kind. That the organization chairmen have been able to complete this list of organizations is wonderful and the magnitude of the task will be partially appreciated when it is realized that in some of these wards only a small percent of the women understand the English language, much less speak it, and in others nearly every known nationality on the face of the globe is represented.

These Chairmen were all enthusiastic—reporting how often meetings are held, the average attendance, the general policy to be pursued and other matters of interest. It was determined to keep these civic leagues (as such) absolutely non-partisan. They pledged themselves to renewed effort in assisting in educating the women to realize their civic and patriotic responsibilities and in increasing registration.

The president upon these chairmen how much the responsibilities of the women of Chicago are upon their shoulders and helped them to realize that the success of all other Illinois women. For as the women of that great city are faithful, so will such influence be felt through the whole state.

Mrs. Holloway McClung, of Monmouth, who is a member of the State Board, has been instrumental in bringing into the State Association several organizations very recently. On January 6th, she spoke at the Baptist church in Alpha and at the close of her address the organization was formed and immediately affiliated with the State. Mrs. Jessie Frankenburg, a woman of most charming personality and a teacher in the public schools, is the president and Miss Lillian Anderson, a music teacher and vocalist, is the secretary. Alpha will be a most welcome member.

Mrs. McClung also organized a Woman's Club at Woodhull on January 7th, which also affiliated with the State. A large and enthusiastic meeting was held and the women are glad to have an opportunity to help in the civic work being done by the women of the State. Mrs. May Woods Houghton was chosen president, and Mrs. Adolph Carlson, secretary. Mrs. Houghton and Mrs. Fanny Pritchard were hostesses to Mrs. McClung and most delightfully entertained her, for which the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association is most grateful.

SOMEWHAT DECEIVED IN FOREIGN PURCHASES

M. Miller, representing the Grand Rapids Show Case company, was in the city Thursday calling on his friends. He related an amusing instance of a mistaken foreign purchase which was made by a wealthy family in his own city.

They were abroad and visiting London decided to buy in the great metropolis some furniture which would be worthy of the elegant house they had had constructed and accordingly selected something costly and fine and had it shipped home with no small complacency and arriving in Grand Rapids they mentioned the fact of their purchase to a member of a prominent manufacturing firm of the place.

The gentleman remarked that it was singular they couldn't find anything to suit them in Grand Rapids but they replied they were sure no such goods were made there.

"Let us examine the articles and see," was the response.

"You are surely welcome to do that."

"I think from your description of the furniture it is something we make and we have sold much of it abroad."

Going to the house the man at once saw the furniture was made by his concern and turning some of the pieces over showed the aristocratic purchasers the trade mark of the Berkey & Gay company. Comment is unnecessary.

Another wealthy family bought a choice and extravagantly high priced marble statuette in Italy and brought it home with great satisfaction. Visiting St. Louis not long after they saw in an art store there an exact duplicate of their valued purchase marked at far less than they paid for theirs in Italy and then they had the duty beside.

Miss Florence Knust of Murrayville underwent an operation for the removal of her tonsils at Our Savior's hospital Thursday morning and is getting along nicely.

JOSEPH DE GOVEIA BUYS PROPERTY ON WEST COURT ST.

Becomes Owner of Storage House of Anheuser-Busch Brewing Co.—Will Remodel Building.

An important real estate transfer was consummated Thursday when Joseph DeGoveia purchased from the Anheuser-Busch Brewing association of St. Louis the property on West Court street formerly used as a storage house. The deal was made thru Edward Keating who went to St. Louis Wednesday and made the arrangements for the transfer with the company. Thursday Joseph F. Hof, real estate man for the company came to Jacksonville and the final arrangements were made for the transfer. The price was not given out by either party.

The property transferred Thursday is located at the corner of West Court street and Broadway alley. It is 60 by 180 feet and the building is 60 by 100 feet. The building was erected by Mr. DeGoveia in 1901 and was used for a number of years by the company for storage purposes. It is a substantial brick structure. It has a store room on the end, which at the present time is occupied by W. D. Cody as an office with a feed and provision store. Mr. Cody is now using entire building. There is a driveway thru the center and on the west is a large refrigerator and storage room and in the rear is a large stable for the keeping of horses. In the rear of the building is also a large shed for storage purposes.

Mr. DeGoveia has had in mind the purchase of the property for some time but until Thursday no deal could be made. It is Mr. DeGoveia's intention to entirely remodel the building. He expects to place a store room in the space now used for a driveway. The front will be remodeled and will have plate glass fronts. The west part of the building he expects to convert into a room for his own business. This room will be fixed with a front office and a private office and draughting room. In the rear, back of this will be the work shop. He also expects to make in the rear lot a place for storage of materials and tools.

Other improvements will be made and when the work is completed the building will be modern in every respect. About two years ago Mr. DeGoveia purchased the site now occupied by the Barr Laundry from the Schlitz Brewing company and has made it one of the most desirable properties on West Court street. He believes that the same thing can be done with the property he purchased Thursday.

Joseph F. Hof real estate agent for Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association while in city talked interestingly of his work. He said to a reporter for the Journal that he has just returned from New York where he made arrangements for the transfer of property on Broadway which amounted to $750,000. He also recently made a deal which transferred property of the company located in Chicago which amounted to $500,000. The company Mr. Hof said, had property from the Atlantic to the Pacific and that most of his time was spent looking after it.

SOME BEAUTIFUL SHOES.

A man representing an eastern shoe manufacturing company was displaying at the store of James McGinnis & Co. yesterday some specimens of the latest of Dame Fashion's decrees in shoes for ladies and the goods were indeed beautiful and wonderfully made. Of course no attempt will be made to describe them for that would take an expert suffice to say there were the feet of so many ladies; then the new designs in imitation of ivory and pearl, delicate white, soft tinted cream color, tall lacing boots, low cut shoes, tans, soft woollens or felts, beautiful shaped boots and a variety almost bewildering.

When one takes into account the fact that an assortment of sizes must be bought if a merchant is to carry a line of any one style it will be seen how extremely carefully a merchant must buy and how well he must be able to gauge his market in order not to be a heavy loser. In the good old days of long ago when there was no change in styles from year to year the matter of buying was far less complicated. Once a great demand for white footwear and almost anything in that line would sell and then the fashions changed. Jacksonville is favored with a number of shoe merchants who fully understand their business and bring to the city stocks which will compare favorably with any carried in larger cities.

WEALTHY NORTHERNER, 79, WEBS SOUTHERN COUSIN, 41.

Conway, S. C., Jan. 27.—An interesting wedding took place here today, when Miss Harriette M. Hanson, a Conway school teacher, aged 41, became the bride of her cousin, Richard M. Sturtevant, a wealthy Massachusetts man, and the heaviest taxpayer in Somerville, Mass. The groom is 79 years old, and he has watched his cousin grow up from infancy. His wife and relatives have died, and on a trip South, the lonely and aged man visited Conway, where his cousin was teaching school. Altho she loves her teaching and is one of the most popular women in this town, she is giving up her work to become the help-mate of the wealthy Northern cousin.

QUARANTINE STOCK YARDS.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 26.—An outbreak of glanders at the Newport News stock yard, shipping horses and mules to Great Britain and her allies, caused the state veterinarian to quarantine the place today. He said $18,000 worth of mules already had been shot and $800.00 worth of horses and mules are endangered.

More than a Million People have seen Douglas Fairbanks and Seena Owen In Triangle's splendid production of "The Lamb"

When Broadway goes crazy about a moving picture—it's time for you to see it.

If you have seen "The Lamb," be fair to your friends. Tell them to see it, too.

If you haven't—get hold of the manager of the Moving Picture Theatre you go to—and ask him to get the film and run it.

Even if it does cost him a little more than usual pictures, he will be glad to get it—for he will make money on it.

The speed of the story,—the big scenes with hundreds of people and hundreds of horses; the tightness you have in the throat when "The Lamb," all by himself, makes a stolen Gatling spit hell-fire and death at a howling mob,—all these help—

But when lovely Seena Owen crawls up into Douglas Fairbanks' arms—and smiles—

Well—you are so glad you went that you go again; and take your friends.

Which is why more than a million people have seen "The Lamb."

Every TRIANGLE picture may not be as good as "The Lamb." But every TRIANGLE picture is so far out of the usual moving picture class that it is worth going miles out of your way to see.

See "The Lamb." Or—see it again.

Any Moving Picture Theatre can get "The Lamb"; if it has already been shown nearby the crowd will be so much the bigger.

NATIONAL REALTY MEETING TODAY

Washington, Jan. 27.—The executive committee of the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges opened its midwinter meeting here today, to consider matters of national importance and to arrange for the big convention at New Orleans in March. National taxation will be one of the topics of today's meeting, and tomorrow consideration will be given to the railroad appraisals which the Interstate Commerce Commission are conducting. The committee will be banqueted tonight by Washington realty men, and a number of Senators and Representatives will speak.

BRIVES NEGOTIATING FOR PURCHASE OF WINGO.

Boston, Jan. 26.—The Boston National league baseball club is negotiating with the Cincinnati Nationals for the purchase of catcher Ivy Wingo. Business Manager W. P. Hapgood said tonight.

TIRED WORKING MEN

A Local Druggist Suggests a Remedy for Overworked, Run-down Men.

The following letter from Manager Hodes recounts the experience and condition of many Jacksonville men. Read this letter and our offer which follows:

Brooklyn, N. Y. "I am a general office manager, and became so nervous and run-down in health that I lost my appetite and finally my health broke down completely, largely because of overwork. I tried Beef Iron and Wine, and other remedies without hip. I saw Vinol advertised and soon after taking it I noticed an improvement. I now have a hearty appetite, sleep better, feel better and have gained considerable in weight." Samuel Hodes, 501 Stone Ave.

The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because it contains the three oldest and most famous tonics viz.—the medicinal elements of fresh cod livers without oil, peptonate of iron and beef peptone.

We ask every run-down, overworked man in Jacksonville to try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that their money will be returned if it fails to help them as it did Mr. Hodes. Lee P. Allcott, Druggist, Jacksonville, Ill.—Adv.

Tooth Loose? Watch out for Pyorrhea!

When you find a tooth that gives back and forth even just a little, see your dentist at once

He will find conditions which you might overlook. He will find a gum recession, even though slight, where the gums have pulled away from the teeth. And he will tell you that you have the dread disease pyorrhea.

From pyorrhea come by far the greater part of all tooth troubles. Unless treated and checked, it will result not only in the shrinking and malformation of your gums and of the bony structure into which your teeth are set, but in the loss of the teeth themselves.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

EAT WITHOUT FEAR OF INDIGESTION OR SOUR, ACID STOMACH

Instant Relief! "Pape's Diapiesin"
Ends Your Stomach Trouble Forever.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt, if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate lies fermented into ataborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases; and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapiesin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapiesin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal lunch without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapiesin which cost only fifty cent for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.—Adv.

Some Topics of the Farm

THE CONTROL OF SAN JOSE SCALE

(The Indiana Farmer)

Some twenty or more years ago Dr. C. L. Marlatt, an entomologist of the Department of Agriculture, was sent out to scour the earth in an endeavor to discover the natural enemy of the San Jose scale—quite a difficult task. In this he was successful, however, for in northern China he found the pest kept in check by the Asiatic ladybird. These were introduced into this country in the hope that the introduction would result in the control of the San Jose scale. The Asiatic ladybird, however, unfortunately proved to be subject to certain native parasites, while the necessity of spraying for the scale destroyed its food supply to such an extent that it was unable to maintain its existence.

The San Jose scale is subject to attack by numerous predaceous and parasitic enemies, which render important service in its control. Practically, however, the combined influence of these several agencies is not sufficient to make up for the enormous reproductive capacity of this insect, the estimate having been made that the progeny from one parent during the season being 1,698,040,200 females. It is thus easy to understand how the insect can so quickly destroy the plants infested and why prompt remedial measures are so necessary. To preserve the plants from destruction by artificial means, such as the use of sprays.

The San Jose scale, in the absence of proper treatment, will quickly bring about the death of many plants of economic importance. Its discovery, therefore, whether in orchards or on prized fruit trees and other plants in the yard, should call for prompt steps toward its control, that the scale may be successfully controlled, and practically its presence merely requires one thorough treatment during the dormant period each year. One account of the general distribution of the pest extermination measures are, in most cases, out of the question.

Complaints sometimes come from orchardists who have the scale to contend with that the control of the insect is neglected by their neighbors, and they believe this neglect adds materially to their own work, undoubtedly the scale will spread from orchard to orchard, but thorough annual sprayings will prevent important injury irrespective of neglect in adjacent orchards.

There are several scale washes which may be employed in the control of the insect, and the one should be selected which can be most conveniently used and which is economical under the circumstances. Thus, for spraying on a large scale, the orchardists could properly afford expenditures for the construction of cooking outfits for lime-sulphur wash which would not be justified where only a few trees were involved. For a few plants it would be better to use some one of the prepared washes put up by manufacturers. In fact, many large orchardists prefer to use sprays of this class in preference to making the washes at home. The possibility of injury to the tree from the sprays must also be borne in mind. All treatment, if possible, should be made during the dormant period, since at this time washes may be applied at much greater strengths than when the trees are in foliage. The aim is to use the wash about as strong as the tree will stand, thereby securing the maximum killing effect upon the insects. Used in this way the washes are most likely to cause injury to the fruit buds and tender twigs, and the lime-sulphur washes less likely to do so. Fish-oil soap sprays are recommended for dormant trees are comparatively safe, the reports are at hand of injury to fruit buds, especially from fall applications. Stone fruits, such as peach, plum, etc., are more susceptible to injury from sprays than apple and pear, and on the former the lime-sulphur sprays should always be used. Petroleum and miscible oils are more frequently used on apple and pear, and owing to their spreading and penetrating qualities are perhaps more effective in destroying the scales on the terminal twigs, which are infested to a greater extent in the case of these fruits. The several sprays in use, the formulae for which may be obtained from the Department of Agriculture (particularly Farmers' Bulletin 650, "The San Jose Scale and Its Control") or from the State experiment stations, are lime-sulphur, petroleum-oil (including miscible oils), and soap washes.

For the successful application of sprays to trees and plants infested with the San Jose scale some form of spraying apparatus is necessary, although it is quite practicable in case but a few trees in the yard are to be treated to apply the wash on the limbs and branches by means of a brush, or even with old cloths. Severe pruning of the trees is usually desirable to simplify the work of treatment, and also to produce a new growth of non-infested wood.

Seed Corn Cost.

The seed corn situation is serious in many localities. Good seed corn suitable to the climate is difficult to locate. As a result prices have gone up, some sales of high-testing corn having been reported at as high as seven dollars per bushel, with higher prices forecasted. Before planting time perhaps some folks will be inquiring what is the limit in price they can afford to pay for first-class seed. We don't know. Perhaps some of our good corn growers can tell us. At an Iowa short course recently this question was asked and the corn expert on hand said fifteen dollars was not too much in a pinch, and ten dollars should be paid if necessary without a second thought. Is corn as profitable as wheat? We pay around two dollars an acre for seedling to wheat right along. Possibly some figuring can be done along this line to get a fair estimate of what the corn grower can afford to pay for good seed.—The Farmers' Review, Chicago.

New Livestock Ruling.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—Livestock shippers in Iowa are showing considerable interest in a recent decision of the supreme court, which held that shippers can not recover from railroads for damage to stock under the regulation of shipping contract unless the claims for damage are filed with the company before the animals are permitted to mingle with others in the stock yards.

The decision was in the case of Baldwin and Riggs against the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific. The action of Judge F. M. Hunter of Van Buren county, in refusing to allow the plaintiffs damages was affirmed. Damages for injuries to cattle in transit from St. Paul in March, 1912, were claimed by J. W. Riggs, of Douds, Iowa, and J. A. Baldwin, of Selma, Iowa. They also sued for damages on a shipment to Chicago some time later, contending that the cattle arrived too late for the market on a particular Wednesday, and that the shrinkage was too great.

The company in defense produced its contract, which also provided that suit, if any, must be commenced within six months after the alleged damage occurred.

Thomas Public Sale.

John W. Thomas, who resides southeast of Litchfield, held a public sale Thursday afternoon, which was largely attended. The bidding was spirited and everything commanded good prices. W. H. Crum was the auctioneer and Charles McDonald the clerk. The Ladies' Aid society of the Baptist church served the lunch. One team of horses sold for $330, bought by Charles Whitman. Otis Mason, a filly, $121; W. H. Fuller, a mare, $113; a horse, $87; Charles Whitman bought a cow and calf for $91; Al Dunlap, a cow for $64. Charles McDonald bought five brood sows at $29.50 each; 500 bushels of oats sold for 36c and 37c per bushel; 24 bushels of seed corn brought $1.00 per bushel; farming implements brought unusually good prices and harness sold well. The sale totalled about $1,850.

BUSINESS MEN MAY ATTEND SHORT UNIVERSITY COURSE

Week's Program at Urbana Offers Much to Progressive Men in Business.

Several Jacksonville business men have received notice of the short course in business at the University of Illinois Jan. 31 and Feb. 1-4. This short course was given for the first time last year and proved very successful. Secretary Carl H. Weber is in communication with the university authorities and it is suggested that any who may find it possible to go communicate with Mr. Weber at once. There are no requirements for admission to this course and no fee will be charged.

Paul B. Fritchey, who has been in the city for the past few days from Peoria, is authority for the statement that a number of Peoria business men will attend and that the course has received the direct endorsement of the business men's association of Peoria, with Mr. Oakford of the firm of Oakford & Fannestock as one of the principal boosters for the course. To quote the words of the bulletin issued by the university:

"The course is designed to afford those already in business an opportunity to broaden their knowledge of fundamental business principles and to get information about the best practice in their respective lines. Each period of class work includes a lecture on business principles and a discussion of their application and practice."

Expenses in Urbana and Champaign are reasonable and the fact that no tuition is charged to any person in business should encourage attendance. Among the subject taken up in the week's program will be "current economic problems, banking, business law, investments, accountancy, market and credit, salesmanship in relation to its scientific aspects, retail selling policies and training of salesmen." Conferences will be held as follows during the week, "The Purpose and Scope of Commercial Clubs," "Retail Salesmanship and Management" and "Important Problems in Traveling Salesmanship."

QUIET AT COURT HOUSE.

Thursday was a quiet day at the court house. There were no orders entered on the probate docket, no marriage licenses were issued and no wills were filed in the county clerk's office. Business was equally quiet in the Circuit Clerk's office. In the sheriff's office but little business was done aside from the collection of taxes. About the only busy man about the court house was Howard Wannamaker. Mr. Wannamaker went thru the motions of sweeping the offices late in the afternoon. During the day he threw a few shovels of coal in the furnace. Outside of that he spent the remainder of the time in his private office in the basement.

SOUTH SIDE CIRCLE.

The South Side Circle will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert Steed on West College avenue. Mrs. Julian Hall will have charge of the meeting and a musical program will be given.

FOOD FOR CHILDREN THEME OF HOME ECONOMICS INSTRUCTOR

Miss Isabel F. Walker Discusses Important Topic Before Women of Fourth Ward.

"Proper Foods for the Child in School" was the theme of Miss Isabel F. Walker, head of the department of home economics at Illinois Woman's college, before members of the fourth ward Parent-Teachers' association assembled at the Washington school Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. A business session followed the address and during the social hour refreshments were served by the teachers. Mrs. A. L. Adams was in charge of the afternoon program and Mrs. W. D. Roberts, president of the association, was in the chair. Mrs. Owen Graft is secretary of the association.

Miss Walker spoke first of the body and its needs, telling of the forms in which nature supplies material for bodily upbuilding and explaining in clear manner the meaning of a balanced dietary. She gave a number of practical suggestions for the choice of foods for the meals of children. Among desirable foods suggested were eggs, milk, fruits and fresh vegetables. "There is no reason," said the speaker, "why the vegetable element in the dietary may not be continued throughout the year. Meat, of course, should be used sparingly, and for very young children its use should be reduced to a minimum." In speaking of the character of the various meals, Miss Walker urged the desirability of evening as the time for the lightest meal. The child's sleep in this way will be sound and refreshing and the tendency to troubled rest will be done away with. By a free use of milk in the dietary it is possible so to supply the bodily needs of the child that no meal need be especially heavy, the meal at mid-day will usually be the heaviest of the three. Miss Walker spoke of the effect of environment during meals, laying stress on the necessity of pleasant meal time conditions. She concluded her talk with detailed reference to some good methods of cooking eggs, cereals, vegetables and meat for children.

WINCHESTER

Mrs. George Lashmet left Wednesday for Jacksonville to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hawk.

Mrs. Robert Mason has received word of the continued serious illness of Miss Eliza Owens of Holden, Okla.

Joseph Switzer has returned to Pekin after a visit with relatives in Winchester. He was called by the illness of his mother, Mrs. Carrie Switzer, whom he leaves much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Gibbs left this morning for a short stay in St. Louis. E. E. Watt is confined to his home with lagrippe.

W. C. Cowper left Thursday for Rochester, Ill., for a visit with the family of John Coe.

Elmer Mason is here from Canton for a visit with his parents.

Three of the mail carriers, Messrs. McCollier, Bill and Hamilton were unable to make their trips yesterday by reason of the bad roads and several of the others were badly delayed.

George Carlton, who for some time has been ill, was reported not to well Wednesday and Thursday.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lou Dailey is ill with lagrippe. Ladies of the Musical Club and Choral society are planning a party Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Edward Frost. The event will be in honor of Mrs. Carl Gorman, who is soon to leave Winchester.

LINCOLN IN 1860;

SHERMAN IN 1916.

Carlinville Republican—It is less than five months until the national Republican convention meets. As the date approaches, Illinois' candidate looms up bigger and stronger day by day. The nomination rightly belongs to the middle west. The nominee should be a man who will harmonize all elements, who can lead the reunited party to a triumphant victory. Senator L. Y. Sherman is that man. Let every Illinoisan do his utmost to bring about the nomination. It was Lincoln in 1860; it will be Sherman in 1916.

No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use "Tiz." "Tiz" is the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. "Tiz" cures your foot trouble so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never, never hurt or get sore and swollen. Think of it, no more foot misery, no more agony from corns, callouses or bunions.

Get a 25-cent box at any drug store or department store and get instant relief. Wear smaller shoes. Just once-try "Tiz." Get a whole lot of foot comfort for only 25 cents. Think of it.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE IS PRESENTED WITH LETTER OF THERON BALDWIN

Historic Document Written in 1830 Throws Interesting Light on the Founding of College—Gift of Mrs. Martha G. Herdman, Brighton, Ill.

At the chapel exercises at Illinois college Thursday morning President Rammelkamp called attention to an interesting historical document recently presented to the college by Mrs. Martha G. Herdman of Brighton, Ill. The document is a letter by Theron Baldwin, dated at Vandalia, Ill., April 15th, 1830, and addressed to a Mr. William Thompson, Amherst, Mass. It will be noted that the letter was written only a few months after Mr. Sturtevant and Mr. Baldwin had arrived in the West from New England. Mr. Baldwin had, of course, settled in Vandalia, while Mr. Sturtevant was acting as sole instructor in the new college.

The letter gives an interesting discussion of conditions at the college in those early times. After apologizing for his failure to write earlier, Mr. Baldwin proceeds as follows: "Believe me our last interview I gave you the outlines of our plan for a college and etc. at the West. I need not now repeat that plan. Rev. J. M. Sturtevant and myself left Connecticut in September last as pioneers in the undertaking. The plan in theory was generally, or perhaps I ought to say universally pronounced 'noble,' and by most was thought practicable. We have now been on the ground for some months—we have a two story brick building completed in fine style 33 feet by 36 and an addition of about the same size is under contract for the coming season. We have about 230 acres of land lying in a body around the building—and perhaps 200 acres of it may be called as good land as any rod of ground on Conn. River.

"The building stands on a delightful eminence about one mile from Jacksonville, and in full view of it—and so much elevated that the foundation of the building is about on a level with the spire of the Court House. The $19,000 which we pledged has been raised, and about 1200 acres of land lying in this State given for the purpose of the college. Our school opened on the first Monday in January about a year and one month after the idea of a college entered the mind of one of the founders of our Association at New Haven, and the place where the building stands was an open prairie last August. So many colleges have been undertaken in the Western country by individuals who knew little or nothing about the business (and of course failed) that people have lost their confidence in them. And after our building was up credible witnesses who should swear under oath to the fact of its existence would at first scarcely believe. They wanted ocular demonstration. The first session was to close yesterday, I was in Jacksonville four weeks since—the number of students had then increased to 19. We have incorporated manual labor into our system, and the students are now engaged in building a house near the college, in gardening and etc."

The document is very appropriately framed. President Rammelkamp expressed the appreciation of the college for the donation, and expressed the hope that other friends who have interesting historical material relating to the college will follow the example of Mrs. Herdman.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONGRESS TO BE HELD IN VICKSBURG.

Eleventh Annual Session Will Take Place June 14-19.

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 27.—Announcement was made here today that Vicksburg, Miss., had been selected as the place for the eleventh annual session of the Sunday school congress. The dates of the meeting are to be from Wednesday, June 14, to Monday, June 19.

In handing out this statement, the secretary of the Sunday School congress, Henry A. Boyd, says that it was only after much deliberation that the congress management was able to determine on which of the cities bidding for the meeting really offered the better proposition. Invitations from Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati, Ohio, Oklahoma City, Chicago, Ill., St. Louis, Mo., Nashville, Chattanooga and Knoxville, Tenn., Shreveport, La., Austin, Texas, and Vicksburg, Miss., were received. That Vicksburg won over the others is explained by the secretary in a statement issued saying that Vicksburg offered the best inducements and that Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma joined in Vicksburg in extending the invitation for the meeting.

The Sunday school workers throughout the country are to be notified at once of the selecting of representatives from the various Sunday schools is urged by the congress secretary. Several of the states, namely, North and South Carolina and Virginia have already begun the selection of their representatives, to it was learned from Sunday School congress headquarters.

WAVERLY HERALD HAS SUSPENDED PUBLICATION

Paper Started by B. Reinbach is Short-Lived—Subscription List Taken Over by Waverly Journal.

The Waverly Herald published at Waverly by B. Reinbach, suspended publication Thursday. The paper was started by Mr. Reinbach, September 1st, and was published weekly until Thursday. Mr. Reinbach has been ill for several weeks and gives as the cause of suspension his continued ill health. Editor Smith of the Waverly Journal took over Mr. Reinbach's subscription list and will furnish the subscribers of the Herald with the Journal.

Mr. Reinbach for a number of years was publisher of the Waverly Journal which he sold to Wilson M. Smith.

OILING UNPAVED STREETS.

A good argument in favor of the oiled road may be had from a brief look at the portion of Kosciuszko street adjoining the property of E. E. Crabtree. This section of road has been well oiled for several years past, and the fact that it is smooth and in excellent condition when many dirt roads are well nigh impassable seems best kind of evidence in favor of oiling. W. H. Cocking was engaged Thursday in dragging the street, and the surface is now in tip top condition.

DRAMA LEAGUE NOTICE.

The annual business meeting of the Drama League for the election of officers and reports of committees will be held Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the public library. The dues for 1916 are now payable.

Mrs. C. L. Carpenter of Sandusky, Ohio, is in the city for a visit with the family of her son, E. C. Carpenter of Hardin avenue.

CONSULTATION AND EXAMINATION

FREE

DR. GABLE, THE NEUROPATHIC SPECIALIST, WILL BE AT HOTEL DUNLAP FROM 9 A. M. TUESDAY, FEB. 1, UNTIL 3 P.
WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 2.

DR. GABLE.

Dr. Gable, the Neuropathic specialist, will return to the Hotel Dunlap for his 26th consecutive year from 9 a. m., Tuesday, February 1, to 3 p. m., Wednesday, February 2. He will give consultation and examination Free to all sufferers of chronic diseases who will call on him in trip.

Dr. Gable's object in doing is to introduce and explain his system of treating diseases. The author of the Dr. Gable Neuropathic System of treating disease. This system of treatment is founded on the theory that most diseases of the body, no matter where located, are caused by some germ or deposit settling in the part. This interferes with normal circulation, presses on the nerves and gradually destroys the functions of the organ. He claims that it can remove this disease deposit, restore normal circulation and pressure on the nerves, most chronic diseases can be cured, no matter which organ it is located or how long standing, if the treatment is before the tissues are too badly destroyed.

He has had great success in curing many old chronic cases, where other treatments failed. He believes that he can cure almost any cancer, rheumatism, either acute or chronic. It cures all curable forms of kidney trouble, bladder trouble, weakness of these organs. This treatment almost immediate relief of dyspepsia, indigestion, fermentation, colic, liver troubles; it cures most forms of blood disease, chronic trouble and nervous diseases. He wants every person suffering from these troubles to call on him at the hotel this trip. He will be able to explain fully all about this system of treatment and tell you whether or not in his opinion your case is curable free of charge. If suffer with any of these chronic troubles you cannot afford to miss this opportunity. Dr. Gable is making visits here regularly each month, wants to treat as many people as possible in and around Jacksonville in order to prove, in as many cases as possible, the great success in having with the system of treatment. ROUTT COLLEGE LOSES CLOSE GAME

WAS DEFEATED BY SHURTLEFF COLLEGE 16 TO 17.

Largest Crowd in History of Routt Athletics Witnesses Fast and Furious Game—Score was Tied at the End of the First Half.

In one of the fastest games ever played in Liberty Hall, Routt college met defeat at the hands of Shurtleff college, by a score of 16 to 17 last night. The game was witnessed by several hundred people and was the largest crowd ever assembled in the hall to see a basketball contest.

The game was nip and tuck from start to finish and it was anybody's victory till the last minute. Routt started the ball to rolling a few minutes after the contest started when Froelich made a basket. Shurtleff then took on extra speed and ran up nine points. Routt players tightened up and made seven points, tying the score at the end of the first half.

The second half started off with a vengeance and with the score, 16 to 16 in favor of Routt, some eight minutes before time was called. Shurtleff sent in their coach, Mr. Moore, who made the winning basket a half minute after he entered. It was hard for the locals to see how a coach would be eligible to play, but as nothing was said in the agreement before hand, he took part without opposition. In the game against Illinois college here a week ago Mr. Moore was present but did not participate in the contest. After Moore's entrance Routt showed more speed than ever, and two minutes before time was called Butler was sent in to relieve Sehy, who was scarcely able to play on account of the grip.

Routt college is planning for a game Tuesday night against the Alumni and the plans are expected to be completed shortly.

The score:
Shurtleff: FG. FT. TP.
Stamper, H.....2 0 4
Miller, R.....3 0 6
Wallace, C.....1 1 3
McDow, R.....1 0 2
Randle, Lg.....0 0 0
Moore, C.....1 0 2
Totals.....8 1 17

Routt: FG. FT. TP.
Froelich, H.....4 4 12
Walsh, R.....2 0 4
L. Woulfe, C.....0 0 0
Leary, Lg.....0 0 0
Sehy, Rg.....0 0 0
Totals.....6 4 16

Officials: Earl Harmon, referee; Alexander, umpire.

ILLINOIS LOSES TO CHARLESTON

Hard Fought Game Results in a Victory for Eastern Normal 35 to 33 —I. C. Plays Millikin Tonight.

(Special to Journal)
Charleston, Jan. 27—In a close and hard fought game here tonight, Illinois college basketball team of Jacksonville, was defeated by Eastern Illinois Normal by a score of 35 to 33.

The Illinois college basketball men will go to Decatur tonight, where they will play James Millikin university. The Decatur Herald in speaking of the game says:
"In a long distance telephone conversation between Coach Norman G. Wann of Millikin and Coach W. T. Harmon of Illinois college, Jacksonville, Wednesday morning, arrangements were made for a double-header basketball game to be played in the J. M. U. gym on Friday evening. The second teams of the two colleges will meet at 7:30 o'clock and the first teams at 8:30.

Changes in Line-up.
Radical changes in the line-up of the Millikin varsity for Friday's game have been announced by Coach Wann. Holcomb, the Auburn haired forward, has fallen into disfavor with the faculty because of playing hooky from English classes and he will be out of the fracas until next week at the earliest. For the Illinois college game therefore, Millikin will start as follows:
Forwards—Norris and Querrey.
Center—Miller.
Guards—Catlin and Goltra.

Two Giants at Guard.
With the two giants, Catlin and Goltra, in the guard positions, Coach Wann believes he has the strongest defense of any team in the Illinois colleges. Goltra has had much experience at the Decatur high school and Catlin is a veteran of many seasons.
Frank L. Rand, supervisor of physical training in the Decatur schools, will referee the second team game, on Friday night. For the varsity contest, either Swaim of Bradley or "Brick" Young of Wesleyan will be secured.

Athlete Registers.
Harry Conley, an athlete from Woodstock, Ill., has registered at the J. M. U. Conley has played seven or eight years of baseball, football and basketball with teams in and about Woodstock. He is said to be a wonder at third base and Coach Wann is glad to be able to add him to his list of prospects."

Fresh country sausage, Shanahan's grocery.
Mrs. T. H. Pratt of Joy Prairie was a city shopper yesterday.

"JITNEYS" REDUCE UTILITY EARNINGS.

Springfield Railway Co. Feels Effect of Auto Bus Line.

Operation of the jitneybus is said to have reduced the gross earnings of the Springfield Consolidated Railway company $31,700 within the year. These figures are given in the payment to the city of 2 per cent of the gross earnings, which were deposited with the First Trust & Savings bank, by the utilities company Wednesday.

The total amount deposited by the company in keeping with its franchise ordinance is $9,007. Last year the amount deposited to the credit of the city was $9,641.72, or a decrease of $634.72. This money is placed in a sinking fund to retire bonds of the city. The total about $32,000.

The payment to the city was made by General Manager A. D. Mackie. In discussing the gross earnings of the street railway company he said the decrease is due to the operation of jitney busses. The ordinance regulating the jitneys was declared illegal by the circuit court last Saturday.

WILLIAM SPIETH WILL WED NEXT MONTH IN WISCONSIN

Will be Married Early in February to Miss Clara Zeimer of Tigerton —Was Jacksonville Resident Before Removal to Olney.

From Tigerton, Wis., comes word of the approaching marriage of Miss Clara Zeimer of that city to William Spieth of Olney, a former resident of Jacksonville, and a brother of Otto Spieth (the photographer). The marriage will take place early in February and it is probable that the ceremony will be solemnized in the Lutheran church at Tigerton.

Mr. Spieth made many friends in Jacksonville during his period of association with his brother in the studio here. He was known as a good workman and was held in esteem also for his genial disposition. Mr. Spieth went to Olney last June and engaged in business for himself, and as fact that he has been successful from the first will occasion no surprise. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Christian H. Spieth and lived for a number of years in Wisconsin before coming to Jacksonville. Fred Spieth, a second brother, took his place in the Spieth studio here, and during the absence of the prospective groom will have charge of the establishment in Olney. Mr. Spieth is expected in Jacksonville the last of the week and will probably spend several days in the city before proceeding to Tigerton.

Edwin Oberate of Ashland made a business trip to the city yesterday.

J. F. SELF CELEBRATES HIS SEVENTY-THIRD BIRTHDAY

Pleasant Gathering of Friends and Comrades at Family Home on South East Street.

Comrade J. F. Self celebrated the 73rd anniversary of his birth at his home, 862 South East street Thursday when his wife and daughter provided an excellent dinner for guests who had been invited. The hostess and daughter were assisted by Mrs. E. W. McCool of Springfield and daughter and Mrs. W. H. Self of this city.

There were present James F. Self, Capt. J. A. Schaub, L. Goheen, Peter Hamel, H. H. Knollenberg, Mayberry Walter, Stephen Dunlap, Stansfield Baldwin, Frank Wigginjoist, A. R. Gregory, Sr., Capt. J. W. Melton, Mr. Goheen as Toastmaster called on the various friends present and they responded either with some incident of camp life or made a few remarks. Miss Self, daughter of the hostess, entertained the company by the rendition of several splendid selections on the piano.

Capt. Schaub in behalf of those present presented Comrade Self with an elegant rocker, which combines comfort with appearance. An excellent dinner was heartily enjoyed and many kind wishes were extended the hostess for the very enjoyable entertainment and also the wish was extended that "Uncle Jim" might live to celebrate many more birthday anniversaries and that all present might again be present at his hospitable table.

At a business meeting of the stockholders of the Merrill Abstract company Thursday, the following were elected as directors, Mrs. Ellen Russell Merrill, J. W. Walton, and George H. Bussey. The directors then met and elected the following officers:

President—Mrs. Ellen Russell Merrill.
Secretary—George H. Bussey.
Treasurer—J. W. Walton.

VISITING IN MICHIGAN.
Mr. and Mrs. Albert Curry of Pisgah have gone to Chicago to attend the automobile show. They will visit in Flint, Battle Creek and Kalamazoo before returning. They expect to be away for two weeks.

EUCHRE PARTY HELD AT TRADES & LABOR ASSEMBLY HALL

Pleasant Time Spent by Members and Friends Last Night.

On South Mainvalterre street between the square and East College avenue is Trades & Labor Assembly building. It is a three story structure and all is used by the members of the various trades unions of the city. The general affairs are managed by an assembly or council consisting of five delegates from each labor union.

In this building, on the first floor, are various apartments and here the members of the unions gather informally. It is a club room or building and is used by both ladies and gentlemen as there are unions of the gentler sex who transact their business in the building.

On the second floor are rooms which are used for various purposes, meetings for business of the different unions and are found very convenient. On the third floor is a single apartment used for general gatherings and there are larger meetings held. It is seated with chairs so that it may be used for dancing, card parties or any respectable use to which such an apartment might be put. The effort of the assembly is that at all times the building shall be used only by persons who conduct themselves in a decorous manner that credit may be cast on the society of organized labor.

With a view to aiding in the cementing of good will and sociability between the members of the labor unions and citizens the idea of a progressive euchre party was suggested and met with favor so committees were appointed and went to work preparing for the event. The general executive committee consisted of Frank Mathews, president of the assembly; M. J. Quinlan, J. W. Eaton, Harry Slover and E. A. Rohlmann. Great credit is due Frank Mathews for the faithful manner in which he worked and sold tickets and in every way making the affair a success. Fred May had charge of the check room and Frank Shannon had charge of the door.

About a hundred merry-makers gathered in the third story around tables last night and proceeded to have a good time. Nothing was lacking to make the event a perfect success and such all voted it who were present.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Michael Shanahan and Mel Armstrong, the consolation awards going to Mrs. Jerry Clancy and Fred Tribble.

R. AND S. MASON'S

Reading—Mrs. Laura Lafayette.
Instrumental solo—Miss Helen DeWitt.
Vocal solo—Miss McCree.
Baritone solo—Shelby Nichols.
Short talks by the pastor, Rev. H. H. DeWitt and officers of the church.

IOXA COUNCIL MEETS.

Iona council, No. 97, Degree of Pochontas, held a regular meeting last night and after the business had been transacted, the social committee surprised the membership by serving substantial refreshments they had quietly prepared. There were present a number of invited guests. A social hour of especial pleasure was enjoyed.

BANQUET TUESDAY NIGHT.

The annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce will be held Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Peacock Inn. Reports for the year will be presented and directors will be selected to fill the place of the seven retiring. An interesting program is in course of preparation.

RUPTURE EXPERT HERE

Seeley, Patronized by U. S. Army and Navy, Called to Jacksonville.

R. H. Seeley of Chicago and Philadelphia, the noted truss expert, will be at the Dunlap Hotel and will remain in Jacksonville Friday only, Jan. 28th. Mr. Seeley says: "The Spermatic Shield as now used and approved by the United States government will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, affording immediate and complete relief, but closes the opening in 10 days on the average case. This instrument received the only award in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery, injections, medical treatment or prescriptions. Mr. Seeley has documents from the United States government, Washington, D. C., for inspection. All charity cases without charge, or if any interested call he will be glad to show same without charge or fit them if desired. Business demands prevent stopping at any other place in this section.

Little Editorial

An Important Trade Announcement

NO WINTER CLEARANCE SALE

You have read in the daily press and magazines and been told of the advancing costs of all kinds of textile fabrics, due to the present war, which has made almost prohibitive the use of dyestuffs formerly obtained abroad.

This condition prevents us from obtaining duplicates of our present stock at former prices.

The wholesale markets were never as low in desirable merchandise and preclude the possibility of supplying the same values as obtainable now.

Our clearing sales have always been a clearance of the remaining stock of the seasons end and we will not substitute for our regular standard merchandise merely to have a sale as a great many sales are conducted.

Therefore we make the unusual announcement that we will have no winter clearing sale. We have not advanced in price any article of merchandise in our store, notwithstanding present worth and continued advance, nor will we do so until every effort of our purchasing organization is exhausted.
